LasaDerm

Medical Aesthetic Clinic

As featured in TV'S "ASK THE DR"

LASADERM LAUNCHES ITS SURGICAL ARM/TREATMENTS

Cosmetic Surgery is an important decision and requires a lot of consideration and research into your chosen procedure. We understand the importance of choosing the right cosmetic surgery procedure for your individual needs and we will take the time to discuss all the options available to you, and give you personal, comprehensive advice. We also know that cosmetic surgery is about more than just enhancing your appearance - it's about renewing and rebuilding confidence in your own skin. Whether it's a mini facelift, breast augmentation, eye bag removal, or a tummy tuck, we're dedicated to giving you the trusted care you need.

At LasaDerm, there's no rush or pressure to have cosmetic surgery right away. We provide a free consultation to make sure that you know exactly what to expect from your surgery. We will always ensure your cosmetic surgery experience is as worry free as possible, which is why we provide you with all the relevant information every step of the way.

We've seen a rise in the number of people travelling abroad to have plastic surgery. The cheaper costs may be tempting, but consider the risks. Cosmetic surgery trips are marketed as vacations, but vacation activities should be avoided after surgery in order to ensure proper healing and reduce the risk of complications. Furthermore there may be no legal recourse if surgical negligence occurs. Your bargain surgery may not be a bargain.

Our aim is to take that temptation away and provide quality plastic surgery, with experienced surgeons, in Milton Keynes, at a fair price.

If you are considering plastic surgery, we believe that we are one of the safest and best choices. But don't take our word for it, why not book a consultation and see for yourself.

The Dark Prince of football brings his red devils to Teyn

Jose was here.
The Portugese Dark Prince of football, who somehow manages to give the impression of having dark hair despite being silvery grey, was right here in our gigantic little town in the East Midlands. And did those feet, walk upon Sixfields' turf so green...
He's one of those people who would be capable of transferring straight into Game of Thrones as a viable character. Joey Barton is another but for different reasons.
Lord Mourinho who used to manage the Lannister first 11 now wants to be King of the North.
He is a drama in his own right. He commands attention beyond the world of football.
Like Sir Alex Ferguson he has the ability to have everyone talking about him after a game.
Other teams might have their faults picked apart and discussed, but the critiques of Jose's teams must jostle for the limelight with the critiques of Jose himself.
He knows how to be a gentleman however.
Before the game Mourinho was respectful of the danger posed by the

‘ The response was typically blunt from Northampton's fans ,

Cobblers, noting the long unbeaten run and the victory over a full strength West Brom in the previous round of the EFL Cup.
The response was typically blunt from Northampton's fans.
With the score at 1-1 they were singing: "You're getting sacked in the morning" and "you're just a s**t Guardiola"...
After the game in which Jose paid Northampton the compliment of bringing on Man Utd's top stars, he couldn't help but leave us with something spicy.
He wouldn't talk to local reporters but did speak to Sky's interviewer.
"We deserved to win. It was difficult as I was expecting... It should have been easier. It should have been against ten men but I should stop talking about referees..."

Steve Scoles

News Manchester United

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER AND LAWRENCE JOHN
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

Northampton welcomed the stars of Manchester United - both past and present - as millions of football fans from around the world tuned in to watch the Cobblers take on the giants of the Premier League.

A record crowd of 7,798 supporters packed Sixfields to watch the EFL Cup third round game, with Sky Sports and beIN Sports cameras broadcasting to viewers across Europe, America, Africa and the Middle East.

Hundreds also gathered on the hillside overlooking the stadium for a free if somewhat restricted view of the action.

United legend Sir Bobby Charlton graced the main stand, and former defender Phil Neville took his spot in the makeshift Sky Sports studio.

The former Cobblers manager and the hero of last season Chris Wilder was also taking part in the punditry.

Before the first kick of the game, a hotel in Daventry bizarrely found itself in the national news after a picture of the Manchester United team training in the hotel's car park appeared on social media.

Jose Mourinho's squad had arrived at the Daventry Court Hotel and Spa the night before, where they had dinner and stayed the night. The next morning, the team were spotted training in the car park of the four-star hotel, with Zlatan Ibrahimovic and Wayne Rooney among the stars.

While the image went viral on social media, home and away fans were already descending on Sixfields stadium in the afternoon to soak up the atmosphere and get their hands on a special edition 84-page programme, which the club had to order thousands more of due to the 'huge demand' in pre-orders.

Nearby restaurants such as McDonald's also had to lay on extra staff and order more food, while Northamptonshire Police - working with Greater Manchester Police - drafted in more officers for the big match.

And a day before the game, staff at the Cobblers were busy preparing the home shirts players to wear, which had 'Northampton Town v Manchester United' stitched underneath the badge.

New pitchside LED advertising boards were also installed in the week, ready to promote local charity Motor Neurone Disease Association throughout the game, after it won a social media competition for free advertising.

A spokesperson for McDonald's said: "We have a major plan for when there are big games and we take into account football matches.

"It is all about forecasting how many people will turn up.

"This is based on a number of factors and this includes football matches.

"What we will do (in Northampton) is take a look at the area by the ground and around it in the town centre, so places where people will watch the match will be stocked as well.

"We look at surges in capacity and are flexible when it comes to major events.

"We have a good infrastructure system which allows us to order at the last minute and insure our customers get fresh food all the time.

"We not only forecast the food and drinks but also the amount of staff we need on the night and what their shifts need to be."

Chief Superintendent Mick Stamper, said: "We have been working closely with Northampton Town Football Club and Greater Manchester Police to plan the policing operation.

"We will have officers at Sixfields Stadium throughout the evening to ensure the safety of those people attending the event, allowing everyone to have a good time and enjoy the atmosphere of the EFL Cup."

The hashtag Northampton appeared on over 70,000 Tweets last night.

NEWS IN BRIEF

A start to forget

A new football team in the Northants Women's and Girls' league has faced a nightmare start to their first season - after losing their latest game 34-0, following 21-0 and 25-0 defeats. Crick Athletic Colts Ladies lost the latest game to Corby Town Ladies on Sunday.

Traveller action

A group of travellers who have pitched up on the Racecourse in Northampton in seven caravans will be moved on in the new few days, the county council has said. The camp, believed to have been set up last week, stretches along several sports pitches.

Going full throttle at Silverstone

Lawrence John enjoys the British Touring Car Championship at Silverstone

The glamorous girls with the grid place signs are the cherry on the cake but the icing is provided by the drivers, the mechanics and all the backroom staff who make the MSA Dunlop British Touring Car Championship (BTCC) possible.

At the weekend, the BTCC circus roared and rolled into the home of British motor racing, Silverstone, bringing with it thousands of fans eager for a great day of racing.

They were not disappointed as the results on Sunday in the 2016 Championship means it will come down to the wire at the next round of racing at Brands Hatch in just under two weeks time. It will be a title decider - a racing shoot out on the track.

This was my first BTCC event at Silverstone.

The feeling you get from being here is you are very much part of a family.

There are the families who attend as fans to support their favourite driver or race team and the feeling you get speaking to a driver such as three times BTCC Champion Matt Neal who described Halfords Yuasa Racing (powered by Honda) as being a family.

He said: "What we have here at Honda is a family, a group of people working with each other for the good of the team.

"Everyone is willing to sacrifice all they have to get a Honda driver over the line first and ensure Honda does as well as it can in the constructors' championship. "We all play our part at Honda for the benefit of the team as much as the individuals."

Halfords Yuasa Racing

ACTION: A flavour of race day at the British Touring Car Championship at Silverstone

was one of the teams competing and has two of the top drivers in the competition, Neal and Gordon Shedden.

Between them Neal and Shedden have won the title five times. Shedden has won twice and is the current BTCC champion.

For the weekend at Silverstone the Halfords

Yuasa Racing Team brought with them 40 tons of equipment and had enough spare parts to cover any eventuality which the races could throw at them.

James Rodgers, who is the team manager at Halfords Yuasa Racing, said: "Our mechanics can replace a whole engine in 38 minutes and we have a body workshop 100 yards away from this garage.

"We feel it is that extra attention to detail which makes all the difference.

"A driver will win you a race but a team will win you the championship."

GOOD BOY: Joe's owner Matthew Lunney says he is 'super proud'

Hearing dog a hero again

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A hearing dog is being hailed a hero once again - after leading his owner to a stranger who had collapsed, while the pair were on holiday.

Golden retriever Joe has been specially trained by Hearing Dogs for Deaf People to assist Matthew Lunney, a profoundly deaf man originally from Northampton but who now lives in Wellingborough. Last year the dog was presented with a heroic award for scaring away a robber who tried to break into Matt's car while both were inside it.

But now Joe is being called a hero for the second time, after performing life-saving actions while in Weston-Super-Mare.

Matt said Joe woke him up in the morning wanting a walk and while they were out the dog ran off barking, before returning to Matt and guiding him to a collapsed stranger.

"When Joe stopped, I saw that a lady had fallen down the steps, and wasn't moving," Matt said. "There was no signal on my phone so Joe instinctively stayed with her whilst I ran back to my car and pressed the SOS button.

"Twenty minutes later the paramedics arrived. The lady was badly hurt, in tears, and emotional. She kept asking me 'how did you get help?'. As she got into the ambulance, the paramedics were telling her about Joe. She realised if it hadn't been for him, she would not have been found."

Speaking about how proud he is of Joe, Matt added: "He is a special dog, one in a million and I wouldn't dream of leaving him or swapping him. He is my loyal dedicated ears and amazing hearing dog hero."

Cloudy2Clear Announce Trusted Trader Partnership

Consumer champions Which? have now joined the thousands of customers who recognise that Cloudy2Clear Windows really are a business that you can TRUST. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes - not the frames has received the coveted 'Which Trusted Trader' status after going through a rigorous accreditation process entirely focussed on customer service.

Group Managing Director Marcus McGee believes that Which? has endorsed Cloudy2Clear's long standing company policy of delivering the highest standards possible at all times. 'Our service is simple. If your double glazing has misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 25 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Whilst a number of tradespeople perhaps don't focus on customer care as much as they should do, we make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. Locally Cloudy2Clear service the Northampton, Kettering, Wellingborough

& Corby areas and manager Trevor Skidmore agrees that this approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated as both my customers and, obviously a body as nationally important as Which? now recognise.'

ROAD RAGE: The incident in Northampton was caught on a dashcam

Mum victim of road rage

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrencejohn@hpnorthants.co.uk

A mum-of-two has spoken for the first time about her 10 minutes of verbal abuse and intimidation at the hands of a 'boy racer'.

Stacey Dunkley suffered a barrage of abuse, hand gestures and what she felt was inconsiderate and poor driving from the man all the way from Mereway to the Sixfields area of Northampton.

Stacey also had her two children, aged six and eight, in the car at the time plus the family cat which they were taking to the vets.

Stacey said: "It all started when I was approaching the traffic lights by the roundabout at Mereway and a car pulled in front of me without warning and I had to slam the brakes on."

"I beeped the driver and what followed was totally out of all proportion and ridiculous."

"He did a series of hand gestures out of the window, kept braking his car as I was driving along behind him and swerving across the road to stop me going past him."

"At the time I was in the car with my two children, my daughter who is six and my son who is eight, as we were taking the cat to an appointment at the vets."

"I felt very scared and made sure I had locked the doors. My daughter was in tears and very upset by what was happening. This made me even more cross as I had got my children in the car with me. The only reason I was filming it was I had a dashcam in the car."

"I have had one since I had an accident with an uninsured driver and as a result I decided I would be careful and film any journey I went on."

"On this occasion I am glad I did. I think for me it did feel worse when it was all over as at the time I did not know what was going to happen. I was thinking 'why was he doing this?' 'What gives him the right to do this?'"

Stacey added she had called the police about the incident and spent a day downloading the video before sending it off to them.

She was told by an officer the best they could do would be to send the individual a letter about the incident.

Cuts planned for fire control room staff

Northants County Council is planning to cut the number of control room staff at the county's fire and rescue service from 21 to 13, the H&P has discovered.

The proposal is part of a long-term plan for the fire service to form a 'virtual joint control room' with Warwickshire, which would involve a shared IT system with staff across two locations.

A consultation on the plan to cut staff will take place in the 'coming months'.

GOLDEN GIRL: Ellie Robinson touched down at Heathrow on Tuesday

Paralympic star brings medals home

Golden girl Ellie Robinson arrived back in the UK to a hero's welcome this week with her gold and bronze Rio Paralympic medals.

The 15-year-old swimmer, who has dwarfism, is a Northampton High School pupil.

She touched down at Heathrow Airport on Tuesday on a flight carrying Team GB athletes.

Ellie's Paralympic debut was rounded off last Saturday when she took bronze in the women's S6 100m freestyle.

The week before, she won gold in the 50m butterfly. In between the two medals she claimed fourth place finishes in the freestyle events at 50m and 400m.

After bagging bronze, Ellie told Channel 4: "I really didn't expect to get a medal in this event. I'm so happy to finish on a high."

Cop knew of pitbull before it killed baby

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A Northants Police officer failed to act after being tipped-off about a banned dog which went on to kill a six-month-old baby, a watchdog report has concluded.

Molly-Mae Wotherspoon died from severe blood loss after being attacked by an American pitbull called Bruiser at her family home in Daventry in October 2014.

The baby's mother, 23-year-old Claire Riley, was jailed for two years at Northampton Crown Court last Thursday, after admitting owning a dangerously out of control dog.

And the baby's grandmother, Susan Aucott, 56 - who had been babysitting Molly-Mae at Ms Riley's home at the time of the attack - was given the same sentence for being in charge of the dog. Both will serve half their jail terms on licence.

Following the sentencing - which came after two previous hearings had to be adjourned due to health complications relating to Ms Riley's current pregnancy - a report was released by the Independent Police Complaints Commission, looking into how the police handled intelligence about the dog. It concluded that a 'PC Claire Paul' has a case to answer for misconduct.

It stated that concerns about Bruiser's aggression had been documented nine months before the attack when Ms Riley took the dog to see a vet.

The vet passed on details about the dog to RSPCA inspector Michelle McNab, who was told by the vet Bruiser was 'extremely aggressive' and 'she had concerns for children in the same house'.

And when the vet suspected it was an American pitbull, which is banned under the Dangerous Dogs Act, she passed information about the dog's aggression to PC Paul, but it was logged as 'low priority' intelligence.

The details were then passed on to another officer for action, but the report says the email may have been accidentally deleted and PC Paul did not follow up this request.

BLOGGER OF THE WEEK

NBC clean up your act

Cllr Janice Duffy

This week's Blogger of the Week is Cllr Janice Duffy (Labour), who represents the Talavera Ward on Northampton Borough Council

Rubbish is everywhere in the eastern district. The council is unresponsive in its efforts to clear up or prosecute and seem to not appreciate the level of this disgusting blight on the area and how dispiriting it is to people who live there.

The Enterprise bin men, neighbourhood wardens and housing officers are over-worked and understaffed with so many restrictions placed on them by the current contract which curtails their powers and make their efforts ineffective.

To take one example of the ruling council being so out of touch is the disposal of cardboard which has to be folded down to the size of a cereal packet to fit the compartment on the bin lorries. It is hard to believe that approval for this was ever granted, it is so ridiculous. This design also adds to expense and littering as bags are left uncollected and then torn open by cats and vermin, leaving wet food rubbish and dirty nappies polluting our streets. This is administrative madness.

There is no assistance either for non-English speaking residents who are expected to somehow understand instructions on how to recycle, even though none of the rubbish disposal leaflets distributed is printed in any of the major foreign languages.

The council needs to listen to residents of the eastern districts - your ideology is wrong and your stereotyping is unhelpful to some of the most hardworking and those facing the most difficult personal lives through illness, misfortune or disability in our community.

I want Northampton Borough Council to pay more attention to the eastern district. We demand a cleaner, greener, safer eastern district in which to live - make it happen.

Your views

Letter not good enough

This week the H&P reported about a Northampton mum who suffered a barrage of verbal abuse, hand gestures and poor driving from a boy racer on a busy road (page 7).
The mother said she reported the incident to the police, who then told her they could only send a letter to the individual. This decision didn't go down well with our readers. . .

DANNY RENDA: All the police have done is sent him a letter!! Unbelievable! So Northamptonshire police are basically saying that it's acceptable to drive like this and even if we have it on video evidence we still won't do anything about it, what a joke.

SJ HOBSEY: Sent a letter. . . what a joke and some saying it's her fault think they need to re-watch clearly they haven't watched what 98% of us have watched and clearly think that it's acceptable to drive like that! The police may have let you get away with it this time but one day you'll do that to the wrong person and they won't let you get away with it! Bet your parents are ever so proud!

Keep balloon in field!

This week the H&P published a story about a hot air balloon which landed in a field in Rectory Farm, Northampton, last Sunday, before taking off again - with the help of stunned onlookers - and landing on a nearby road, so that it would be easier to pack away. But one reader on Facebook wasn't happy. . .

LEE GRAVESTOCK: This is the second time in the past couple of months this has happened. The first time the owners had the good sense to keep the balloon in the field and drive their support vehicle to the balloon. This lot seemed to think it was ok to drag their balloon onto the main road, very lucky it did not cause an accident but it did waste the time of police whom I am sure had better things to do.

Spitfire crashes at county airfield

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@hpnorthants.co.uk

A Second World War aircraft suffered minor damage after crashing at an airfield.

The incident happened last Thursday afternoon at Sywell Aerodrome, near Wellingborough, when the Spitfire, ML407, landed on the runway.

While slowing down, the nose of the aircraft dropped into the ground, bringing it to a sudden halt.

It is believed the Spitfire had been pivoting on its underwing wheels without its back wheel also touching the ground, forcing the front of it to dip.

No one was injured in the incident, and the aircraft - known as the Grace Spitfire - was safely removed and returned to its hanger.

After inspection it is believed damage was found to the propeller and the left hand main undercarriage.

An update on the damage was shared on a Facebook group dedicated to this two-seater aircraft, reading: "The Grace Spitfire

LANDING: There were no injuries and the plane had minor damage

ML407 recovery process is going well. The shock load testing showed that the engine remains serviceable. Other inspections including NDT have had results (as anticipated) showing no problems.

"Our Air Leasing team are being supported by the very best and most helpful specialists, and my personal gratitude goes out to them all!"

The aircraft, which served in the last 12 months of the Second World War, has been used for displays over the past 27 years.

In January this year, the maintenance of the plane was moved to Sywell.

Community Announcement

This Saturday sees the arrival of this year's new students and the commencement of Freshers Week.

In addition to FreshFest, the Union's headline outdoor music event being held on Saturday 3 October, the Union provides students access to a number of parties on Park Campus, outdoor drama, karaoke and pub quizzes among other events designed to welcome Northampton's newest residents.

The University of Northampton Students' Union, as last year, are working closely with Environmental Health to ensure that the event, which this year runs 4pm - 12am, operates in a manner that ensures a quality experience for our students whilst minimising the impact on the local community.

Our site plan takes account of factors including the direction of travel for sound and opportunities for sound absorption from the immediate environment to ensure the nearest residential area should not experience anything greater than 65Db or something similar to that which would be found ordinarily on a busy road.

Further to our entertainments, students will also have the opportunity to meet the Students' Union's 37 sports clubs and 30 different Student Societies alongside a number of local and national businesses and charities across a two day event expected to attract over 6,000 visitors looking to take advantage of the organisation's unique offer of free sports and society memberships.

Local residents who wish to raise any concerns regarding Freshers events or provide input should contact the Students' Union's Marketing & Communications Manager by emailing: enquiries@northamptonunion.com

Pensioner dies in tipper truck collision

CRASH SCENE: The road had to be closed for the rest of the day

An 88-year-old woman died in a collision with a tipper truck on the A5.

The crash took place near Weedon last Thursday at 1pm at the Heyford Lane junction, when the woman was joining the road in a blue Renault Clio.

A grey truck being driven by a 70-year-old man was in collision with the Clio before then colliding with a red and green tipper truck being driven by a 68-year-old man.

The woman died at the scene and both truck drivers suffered serious injuries and were taken to University Hospital Coventry by air ambulance.

Spray is linked to severe infections

BY NICHOLAS BIEBER
nicholas.bieber@nphants.co.uk

Anyone who has had a body piercing is being urged not to use this spray (pictured), after nine people across the county developed 'serious infections' - along with dozens more across the country.

Some 26 patients have fallen ill in recent weeks with a severe infection called Pseudomonas aeruginosa, after using the aftercare bottle which has been distributed widely across the UK.

The bacteria can lead to pneumonia, tissue damage or even septic shock in vulnerable people whose immune systems are weakened.

As a result, Public Health England has issued a warning urging people to stop using the product and, if they start showing symptoms, to seek medical help.

The product is a 100ml bottled aftercare saline spray and is manufactured by Lion Care Products Ltd. However, there is no consistent brand or label being used on the product.

So far all the infections have been ear infections, with most occurring in the East Midlands and the South East.

possible to include a line to say why they upped sticks and went to Missouri? The reason I found was it was all down to them wanting to get a new stadium and the city would not help them so they left. In the time they have been away the value of the club has risen so much they are now the sixth most valuable team in the country with a value of $2.9 billion. They were 28th on the list before they left LA. And in the time they have been away they won the Super Bowl. The team's $2.6 billion new stadium will open in 2019 - until then they will play at the Coliseum.

And speaking of things slipping past me... in the past few blogs I have dipped my toe in the fashion world and told you all about OTK (over the knee) boots and how you can maximise your stock portfolio by using Vogue as your guide.

I return to this niche to tell you all about celebrities now going out and about in their slippers. It seems the 'mad woman down the street walking around in her slippers look' is now the hot style.

Slippers to you and me, the 'sliced loaf' to the fashion crowd are selling like hot cakes. These are the next high street sensations. The sales of them have increased by 65 per cent in the past three years.

My advice - don't let news or fashion slip you by.

Ben's licence to

BY LAWRENCE JOHN
lawrence.john@hpnorthants.co.uk

There is a grace, skill and an art to flying a jet fighter which very few of us will ever understand.

Those who fly these multi-million pound aircraft in the Royal Air Force (RAF) do so in what they call being 'in the bubble'.

This means they are concentrating on what they are doing and what their mission is but also making an escape plan and thinking 'what happens if this goes wrong'.

We can watch in admiration and perhaps guess at the sense of excitement and adrenaline rush it gives the pilot but we will never truly know.

The best way to find out is to ask. The pilot I spoke to is Red Bull Air Race ace Ben Murphy who is from Northamptonshire.

Ben is in his first season in the Red Bull Air Race Challenger Cup and while this is a series of races for what could be called 'novices' at this level, Ben is not a novice when it comes to flying.

He first gained his pilot's licence when he was 17, in other words he could legally fly a plane before he could drive a car. Ben gained his pilot's licence as he was being sponsored by the RAF while he was still at school and he then joined the RAF in 1997 and finished his flying training in 2000.

He went on to become a Harrier GR7 pilot and instructor from 2000 to 2006, flying operationally in Iraq and Afghanistan, where he was awarded campaign medals by both the United Kingdom and United States.

Speaking about his time as a fighter pilot in the RAF, Ben said: "What I was doing had real consequences as when I was flying the Harrier GR7 it was as very close air support and this included dropping weapons for the troops. I could not afford to make any mistakes as there is no room for error.

"Being a pilot I would say was concentrating 50 per cent on what you were doing and then the other 50 per cent on what you needed to do if something happened. It was knowing how you would react."

In 2006 Ben joined the Red Arrows aerobatic unit as a team pilot, and was promoted to commanding officer and team leader – the second youngest ever to have held that top role.

you have to be the best of the best. Now he has undertaken his next challenge - to fly in the Red Bull Air Race Challenger Cup.

Speaking of his new role, he said: "This is a very different step. I have lots of transferable skills which I can bring from flying the Harrier GR7 and being in the Red Arrows to this role."

"But with these planes we are pushing them to their limits and they pull more G Force than anything we did in the Red Arrows. It is a physically demanding role."

Pidy's pedal power tour is for Hope

Pedal Power was the force which helped drive 28 amateur cyclists to help raise more than £20,000 for the Hope Centre in Northampton.

They all took part in an epic cycling adventure across the UK and Europe, which had been organised by Pidy UK.

With the funds raised from Ride 4 Hope 2016 still being collected, the total is expected to be well above £20,000, a record for the event.

Robert Whittle, General Manager of Pidy UK and part of the team of cyclists commented: "Ride 4 Hope 2016 was a truly fantastic experience and a great way to raise money to support the Northampton Hope Centre."

Cycle 4 Cynthia is lucky thirteen

BY STEVE SCOLES

steve.scoles@HPnorthants.co.uk

Herald editor Steve Scoles is putting aside superstition and climbing in the saddle for the 13th Cycle 4 Cynthia bike ride on Sunday.

Northampton North MP Michael Ellis, whose constituency contains the Cynthia Spencer Hospice that the ride benefits, has been encouraging people to sign up for the cause and not worry about the so-called 'unlucky' number associated with this year's event.

"I was born on Friday 13th so I've always considered it to be a rather lucky number and indeed I've never worried about walking under ladders or spotting black cats!

"I would encourage cyclists to instead concentrate on the massive difference that their support could make to the amazing care offered by the team at the Hospice" he said.

Jan James, who will lead the British Pepper & Spice team for the eighth year, celebrated his 13th birthday on Friday 13th back in the 70s and he too is urging others to leap into the saddle: "The company has been proud to support the event for almost a decade now and it's always been great to see so many firms pull together to help create a really fun and memorable ride."

Last year more than 1100 riders raised a record £76k for Cynthia Spencer Hospice.

For more information, including details of the 5, 25 and 50 mile routes which start from Holdenby House this year, entry and sponsorship forms, or to register online, please visit www.cycle4cynthia.co.uk Meanwhile to purchase a C4C jersey, priced at £25, please call the Hospice on 01604 678082.

The former Royal car for the Queen and Duke of Edinburgh and the vehicle once belonging to Princess Diana's father were among a fleet of Rolls Royce and Bentley models on show to the public at the weekend.

The Rolls Royce Memorial Foundation hosted the rare open weekend at its grade II listed headquarters - The Hunt House - in Paulerspury, near Towcester, on Saturday and Sunday - raising £500 in the process for the restoration of the building.

The 39-year-old charitable company - which celebrates the life of Sir Henry Royce, the founder of the motor car firm - also offered visitors free rides in the vehicles, as part of its bid to raise awareness of the foundation.

The Doctor Who Gave Up Drugs

The pressure to feed patients who have an insatiable appetite for antibiotics and pills is at the forefront of this two-part documentary called The Doctor Who Gave Up Drugs.

The doctor in this case is Chris van Tulleken. What he wants to do in this two part programme (part one was last Thursday) is to persuade and show people the pills they are taking and the ones they cling to like a life raft are not doing them any good and the best thing they could do is throw them away and stop taking them.

He has two patients who wanted his help. And for one who was addicted to painkillers he showed her there was a way to get off them and she did not need them.

And a patient suffering from depression made a breakthrough.

Maybe doctors should not be so quick to tick the box marked prescription and think is there another alternative.

Part two is on tonight at 9pm on BBC 1.

Apartment with old school appeal?

TRENDY nightclub The Hacienda ended up a mecca for clubbers looking to party hard, but the former boat showroom had an unusual opening night back in 1982 with old-school comedian Bernard Manning on the bill.

During its early years, plenty of big hitters lined up to play there, including Culture Club, Simple Minds and The Smiths. It was even the venue for Madonna's first UK performance in 1984. By the end of the decade the Manchester club had achieved cult status as the acid house craze took off, but after drug dealers moved in, the club voluntarily shut for three months and improved security. However, it wasn't enough and The Hacienda finally closed its doors in 1997.

At an end-of-an-era auction, fans queued to buy bricks and bits of the dance floor, and the club's history are the focus of the film 24 Hour Party People starring Steve Coogan.

After years of neglect, the site was bought by developers in 2004, who demolished the nightclub and built flats – keeping the iconic moniker – which meant clubbers with happy memories of house-music fuelled nights could find a home in their former hangout.

This two-bedroom, eighth floor apartment has stacks of floor-to-ceiling windows with smart lighting throughout, a central music hub with speakers in every room and contemporary bathrooms. It's also got a balcony, secure allocated car parking and 24-hour concierge, and is on the market for £349,950.

Louise Emmott, residential director at JLL, says: "The apartment is the former show apartment for the scheme, so is one of the most generous sizes in the Hacienda and larger than typical two-bedroom apartments currently available elsewhere."

Live in a bit of Lennon history

JOHN Lennon's wedding day to first wife Cynthia was far from swinging. The 1962 ceremony at the Mount Pleasant Register office in Liverpool had fellow Beatles McCartney and George Harrison as guests with manager Brian Epstein, best man, but the couple didn't have any flowers or a photographer.

The wedding party celebrated afterwards in Reece's restaurant, which wasn't licensed to serve alcohol, so guests had to toast the couple with water. And the newlyweds didn't even get a honeymoon, as Lennon had to play a gig at the Riverpark Ballroom in Chester that night.

Cynthia Lennon, who died last year, met Lennon at Liverpool Art College and while the Beatle was performing in Hamburg, rented his bedroom from his aunt Mimi Smith. They married after she became pregnant, but when Beatlemania took off, she had to deny being his wife. After several affairs, Lennon cheated on her with Yoko, prompting a swift divorce in 1968 when she got £100,000.

In the centre of Liverpool, Reece's was a multi-floor restaurant where the first-floor became a dance hall at weekends. It closed in the 1980s and later became shops, but developers are now turning it into 91 studio and one bedroom open-plan apartments and have just got permission for a rooftop extension so flats on the top floors will get panoramic skyline views.

With prices from £64,950 for a studio to £99,950 for a one bed, they're hoping to attract young professionals and first-time buyers with furniture packages and on-site 24/7 concierge.

Did Coco go for a cruise on this?

Born in a poorhouse, the 20th century's most famous fashion designer Coco Chanel's life was a true rags to riches tale.

A tough businesswoman with a flair for sewing, she hit the big-time and joined French high society, amassing a $19bn fortune before her death in 1971, making her one of the richest women of all time. Witty and mesmerizing, Chanel became muse, patron, or mistress to the century's most celebrated artists, including Picasso, Dalí, and Stravinsky.

Another of her affairs was with American entrepreneur Harrison Williams, who in 1929 was the richest man in America, controlling nearly one-sixth of all American utilities. Williams also moved in high circles and was friends with Edward VIII, who stayed at his home during American trips.

Williams owned this houseboat, The New Yorker - built in 1928 and one of a handful of surviving 'flyers' of about 300 ever made that were used by wealthy businessmen to commute from their seaside mansions to marinas in Manhattan.

The 66ft motor yacht had a spell in service during World War Two when it helped the British government rescue stranded sailors, but went back into private ownership and has been a houseboat in recent years. The current owner has given the interiors plenty of TLC and fitted the boat with a modern engine. With a price tag of £750,000, it now has 591sq ft of accommodation with two bedrooms, bathroom, reception room and kitchen, as well as a front and rear deck.

The real home of James Bond

DANIEL Craig's rumoured to have been offered $150m to reprise his role as 007 in the next two instalments of the blockbuster spy serial. However, the reluctant star famously remarked that he'd, "rather break this glass and slash my wrists" than utter the words, "Bond, James Bond" onscreen again.

So with a possible vacancy, bookies are taking bets on other Brit stars filling Craig's shoes, including James Norton, Idris Elba, Jamie Bell, Poldark star Aidan Turner, Damian Lewis and Tom Hardy. Even Gillian Anderson's name has cropped up as a possible gender-bending Bond.

While playing the international spy, Daniel Craig escaped to Skyfall Lodge in the 2012 movie, his country ancestral home in the highlands of Scotland, which he hadn't visited since his parent's death.

But in London, Ian

Fleming's Bond books had the hero living in Royal Avenue just off the Kings Road in Chelsea, with an elderly Scottish housekeeper named May. His converted Regency house had a book-lined sitting room with a direct phone line to SIS headquarters in the bedroom.

The swanky road was designed by Sir Christopher Wren on behalf of William III in the 1690s as part of a proposed carriageway linking the Royal Hospital to Kensington Palace.

Petula Clark lived in the road in the 1980s and now No. 8, a Grade II Listed Victorian five-storey house, has just been sold after being prepared by bdesignhouse.com (0845 680 1033). It originally had a self-contained flat in the lower ground but was reinstated as a single house, keeping many of the period features but gaining a sleek modern kitchen and bathroom.

Where Partridge was shot

AS ALAN Partridge might have said, 'welcome to the places of my life'. In 2013 Steve Coogan's alter-ego 'bounced back' from a nervous breakdown during his first cinematic outing, which was a box office hit.

Alan Partridge: Alpha Papa promised fans 'action', 'cops', 'ruddy danger' and 'textbook Alan' when the hapless hero tried to salvage his public career while negotiating a potentially violent turn of events at work. This included Partridge standing up to an estranged employee who had refused to leave and who then held 12 of his co-workers hostage.

The production company subsequently revealed that fans could expect a second helping of Partridge, although there's been no news on a sequel since.

But rather than taking place in his beloved Norwich, the film was actually shot in Mitcham, in the London borough of Merton. Brook House posed as North Norfolk Digital, with the exterior used as the radio station. Now developed into luxury flats, it overlooks the cricket green and is near tram and train stations all within the Mitcham Conservation Area.

The one and two bedroom apartments range in price from £220,000 to £300,000, and have their own parking space, large bedrooms and a communal area. Ready to move in later this year, the developers reckon there'll be high rental demand for the properties which also have an audio/video door entry system.

Jaguar gets back on track

BY ENDA MULLEN

Jaguar's return to motor racing after a 12-year absence is as much about testing the electric vehicle technologies that will spur the car maker's continued growth as claiming honours on the racetrack.

That was the verdict of Nick Rogers, Jaguar Land Rover's executive director, product engineering, as the Coventry-based car maker officially launched its first all-electric Jaguar Racing car, the I-TYPE 1.

The car will compete in the fast-growing FIA Formula E series, the third season of which is set to get under way in just a month's time.

Jaguar's return to global motor-sport also sees it team-up with electronics giant Panasonic as its official partner.

Panasonic Jaguar Racing will take to the track for the first time in Hong Kong on October 9 with drivers Adam Carroll, Mitch Evans and reserve driver Ho-Pin Tung.

Jaguar Land Rover, now the UK's largest R&D investor, has pledged the Formula E championship will serve as a platform to develop the next generation of electric powered road cars.

Speaking at the launch of Panasonic Jaguar Racing, Mr Rogers underlined the important role Formula E will play in developing electric vehicle technology and the importance of electric vehicles in Jaguar Land Rover's future product portfolio.

He said: "Over the next five years we will see more changes in the automotive world than in the last three decades.

"The championship will enable us to engineer and test our advanced technologies under extreme performance conditions. "We will apply this vital knowledge as part of our real world development. At Jaguar Land Rover we employ 9,000 engineers and the team will draw on these engineers to extract data and push the boundaries of electric technology in a race environment."

He added: "All of the technology is being pushed to the limits on the racetrack and that technology will flow back into road vehicles."

"I promise you I will soon be telling you about new products that will have this new technology in."

Formula E sees electric racing cars compete on inner city circuits around the world.

James Barclay, Panasonic Jaguar Racing team director, said: "We want to be successful on and off the track.

"We know that the challenge will be strong - our competitors have a two-year head start.

"We will be keeping our expectations in check in our first season.

"Ultimately we're here to win but we're here to innovate too."

Renault Kadjar Take a look inside. . .

BY IAN DONALDSON

Renault is careful about the new models it offers British buyers, keeping some firmly to the other side of the English Channel.

So, you can't walk into your local Renault showroom and order a new Talisman or Espace, because the company reckons not enough of us would buy one.

Might be right on the Talisman but the people carrying Espace is such a stunner you'd think it might succeed on looks alone. Which brings us to a Renault you can buy from the dealer down the road and it's a looker as well.

The Kadjar is Renault's larger car entry to the crossover market (with the smaller Captur a rung down the ladder) and comes at a time when we can't get enough of something that looks like a hatchback on steroids.

Something like the Nissan Qashqai, for instance. This massive seller donates big profits to its maker, and lots of parts. . . to the Renault Kadjar.

Both are products of the Renault-Nissan Alliance and beneath both Qashqai and Kadjar you'll find the same engines and body platforms. .

The bits you can see are different - and to these eyes the Kadjar is much the better looking car, inside and out, with a bit of catwalk attitude to its bodywork creases and slashes.

Present the Kadjar in the flame red of this car (a £625 option) and you have something that looks worth more than the £18,495 that starts the range off. Add in the 19-inch alloy wheels that come as standard on the Signature Nav grade test car and you have a car that stands out.

Inside, there's plenty of room front and rear and a generous boot. The same crossover genes make the Kadjar look a likely candidate for all-wheel drive, but hardly any of them are and most owners will find their front-wheel drivers can cope with anything an English winter throws at them.

The Signature Nav grade brings - you've guessed - a satellite navigation system. It was easy to use and the route showed up clearly on a nicely sized screen. Also part of the spec is a Bose sound system that pumped out volume but whose alloy coloured logo on the dash top reflected annoyingly in the windscreen.

Niggles aside though, here is a handsome addition to the crossover market that deserves to do well.

VOLVO V90 ON CROSS COUNTRY COURSE

BY: STEWART SMITH

IT'S almost 20 years since Volvo introduced its rugged Cross Country models which have become synonymous with the go-anywhere motor. Now Volvo has unveiled the V90 Cross Country, completing its 90 series line-up. With some of the harshest winters on the planet and more than 77 per cent of the country covered in forest and lakes, Sweden is the natural place to develop and test extreme durability and all-weather-capable cars and the new V90 Cross Country is designed to cope with any condition. From secret testing facilities in the frozen north of Sweden, where temperatures regularly hit -40 degrees centigrade, to the searing desert heat of Arizona, where Volvo Cars performs its high-temperature testing program, the V90 Cross Country has been built to cope.

Dr Peter Mertens, senior vice-president research and development at Volvo Cars said: "Our cars are well known for their safety, strength and durability. With all-wheel-drive, increased ride height and a chassis optimised for comfort and control in all weather and road conditions, the new V90 Cross Country takes our versatile V90 estate and adds the heart of an explorer." Production of the new car is set to start this autumn at Volvo Cars' Torslanda plant in Sweden. UK prices will be announced later this year, and first deliveries are expected in early 2017.

NISSAN VISION FOR HIGH-TECH CARS BY: STEWART SMITH

NISSAN has announced an addition to its Juke, Qashqai and X-Trail line-ups with the introduction of a Vision range to its popular crossover range. N-Vision Special Versions promote Nissan's safety-shield technology and key features of the specials are systems such as Around View Monitor, NissanConnect, full colour rear view cameras and lane departure warning. These features will come as standard in the Nissan Vision line-up which is positioned between the N-Connecta and range-topping Tekna grades. The Around View Monitor - which uses cameras to display what is around the vehicle - is part of Nissan's move to ease modern-day driving by giving drivers confidence to manage manoeuvres more easily. It is also an integral part of Nissan's ProPilot project, the brand's autonomous driving technology which will debut in Europe on the Qashqai crossover in 2017. As far as the Juke N-Vision goes there will be a limited production and the model is based on the N-Connecta grade with the addition of a safety pack consisting of Around View Monitor, Lane Departure Warning, Blind Spot Warning, Moving Object Detection plus enhancement to the exterior and interior.

The 115bhp petrol version will cost £18,860 and the 110bhp comes in at £20,485. The Qashqai N-Vision comes with additional gear including panoramic glass roof, heated front seats, satin silver roof rails and Alcantara and graphite part leather trim and is priced from £23,790. The X-Trail N-Vision comes with DIG-T 163 2WD petrol and six-speed manual transmission or the dCi 130 diesel with 2WD mated to a six-speed or Xtronic gearbox or a 4WD with six-speed manual. Prices remain the same as the outgoing n-tec grade, starting from £26,735. Standard features include NissanConnect seven-inch touch-screen navigation and entertainment system, Around View Monitor, 19-inch alloys and one-touch automatic opening power tailgate

SKODA EXPANDS YETI PRODUCTION BY: STEWART SMITH

SKODA'S first full-size SUV, the Kodiaq, goes on sale early next year but the Skoda Yeti - the brand's first but smaller SUV - is enjoying a rise in popularity. Now in its seventh production year, debuting in 2009, the Yeti has been one of the most successful compact SUVs ever. In the UK, Skoda has seen the Yeti's popularity continue to rise, with nearly 60,000 registrations since its 2010 market introduction and last year it had its best-ever year, with 13,306 being snapped up by UK customers. Skoda has delivered more than 580,000 Yetis to customers worldwide and due to continued high demand is expanding capacity for production. Michael Oeljeklaus, Skoda board member for production and logistics, said: "We are delighted to be able to deliver as many Yetis to our customers in Europe as they wish. "By using the production capacities of another European plant within our international production network, we can respond satisfactorily to the high demand." The compact SUV is currently produced at five plants - Kvasiny in the Czech Republic and also at Skoda's factories in Ukraine, Russia, Kazakhstan and China. In order to meet high demand for the Yeti models in Europe, Skoda is using the additional production capacities at the Russian Nizhny Novgorod plant. The Yeti has been produced there since 2012 alongside the Octavia.

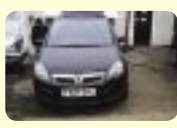

Production in Nizhny Novgorod is carried out in partnership with the Volkswagen Group Russia and the Russian automobile manufacturer GAZ Group. In Europe, the award-winning Yeti is one of the best-selling SUVs in its class which underlines its all-wheel-drive competence. In 2015 Skoda delivered around 99,500 Yeti models. Between January and August 2016, approximately 61,700 customers worldwide opted for a Yeti, with over 14 per cent of those allocated to UK customers.

Tuitavake becomes Saints' latest arrival

POWER TO ADD: New boy Nafi Tuitavake

SAINTS

Northampton Saints made their second signing of the week on Wednesday after the arrival of Tonga international Nafi Tuitavake from French club Narbonne.

The 27-year-old, who can play on the wing or at centre, will add more physical clout to Saints' backline and follows Api Ratuniyarawa to Franklin's Gardens after the Fijian lock joined on Monday.

Tuitavake had been playing his rugby in the Pro D2 in France for a year with Narbonne after playing most of his rugby in his native New Zealand.

For much of the last decade, he's played for North Harbour in the NPC and, after a first spell in France with Agen, he had two years in Super Rugby with the Crusaders, playing alongside the likes of Richie McCaw and Dan Carter.

Tuitavake said: "I have really enjoyed my time at Narbonne, but the opportunity to join Northampton was one I could not resist. They are a world-renowned club with some amazing players and I can't wait to get started."

"I know Ace Tuala very well and Ken Pisi from our time at North Harbour and they have nothing but good things to say about Saints."

"I am very grateful to Narbonne president Bernard Archilla for allowing me to take this opportunity and look forward to meeting my new team mates."

Tuitavake won the 2009 IRB Junior World Championship with New Zealand and also represented them in the World Sevens Series before switching allegiances to Tonga, for whom he made his debut against Fiji in June.

Skipper frustrated Ashton incident 'was not policed'

SAINTS

BY MATT WRIGHT
sport@slsmedia.co.uk

Northampton Saints captain Tom Wood is disappointed that the biting incident involving Chris Ashton and Alex Waller in last Saturday's 27-12 defeat at Saracens wasn't dealt with at the time.

Former Saints winger Ashton was subsequently cited for the flash point and handed a 13-week ban on Tuesday night after being found guilty by a disciplinary panel of biting prop Waller in the 24th minute of the match.

Referee Greg Garner didn't see it at the time, but Waller quickly alerted him to what had happened, only for the official to state that it would be looked at after the game rather than make use of the TMO.

Given how incriminating the footage was, there was a real chance that Ashton would have been sent off if the technology had been used, which would have sent the match down a different course.

As it was, it ended up turning on a yellow card for Waller on 55 minutes for a dump tackle on Sarries hooker Jamie George, with Saints' 12-9 lead becoming a 21-12 deficit in his absence.

Wood said: "They were obviously playing on the edge, as much as we were, and to get away with multiple things, really, changes the course of the game."

"It is frustrating, but we're not throwing the toys out of the pram about it. We'll just get on with it and get on with the next job."

"I honestly don't know what the answer is – it is frustrating that we fell on the wrong side of it and that Alex actually ended up getting sin-binned."

"Whether that's because his head's gone and because he's not happy that things have not been policed properly, has been on the receiving end of a few and now feels like he's got to dish out some of his own, I don't know. I can't speak for Alex on that. It's frustrating that what's clearly a red card, that's been a 13-week ban, wasn't policed on the day and Alex gets a yellow for a marginal tip-tackle."

Northampton will have to put their disappointments at Allianz Park behind them quickly as another huge test awaits them on Saturday, in the form of Wasps at Franklin's Gardens.

Wasps, with all their attacking armoury, have won all three of their Premiership games so far this season, including a 70-22 dismantling of Bristol last week that saw them rack up ten tries.

Wood said: "We had a tough time against Wasps last year. Things didn't go our way at all: we were very slow out of the blocks here and they had everything their own way."

"I remember George Smith playing particularly well, their forwards caught us napping and by the second half we were just playing for pride and salvage a little bit of that in a game that had already gotten away from us."

"Away from home, we weren't a huge amount better, so we've got to sort that out this week."

"Obviously they're flying high, they've had a lot go their way already this season and they had a massive win last week. We're under no illusion as to what the threat is this year and hopefully bring the same level of intensity we had last week."

HAPPY CAPTAIN: Alex Wakely

'Northants have the town talking about cricket again'

CRICKET

While the County Championship season is coming to a thrilling conclusion this week, the campaign is already over for Northamptonshire, with their captain Alex Wakely describing it as the most satisfying of his time with the county.

Northants rounded off their 2016 last week with an impressive 114-run victory over Gloucestershire, which meant they finished the season off with three straight wins in four-day cricket.

But the obvious highlight of their season was winning the T20 Blast after they defeated Durham in the final at Edgbaston in August, having reached Finals Day for the third time in four years.

Wakely's side also came within one wicket of reaching the semi-finals of the One-Day Cup, while there were a number of brilliant individual displays during what was a thrilling five months.

Wakely said: "In 2013, when we had the brilliant year, with promotion and the T20 [victory], it was a bit of a fairy tale. I don't think any of us – players, coaching staff, everyone – believed that we could do it."

"This year we thought we genuinely had a good chance to do it, so it's a different set of pressures, knowing that we were a good Twenty20 team and there was a different pressure on us going out there. We set out to win it and we did, but everything has just clicked into place. I think we've had more centuries and five-wicket hauls than we've had for a long time."

"We had a player [Ben Duckett] get to 1,000 [first-class] runs for the first time since Stephen Peters did it a few years ago, we've had a nine-for, two double-hundreds, we've played some exciting cricket."

"The town is buzzing and people are talking about cricket again – in Twenty20, the fans here were the best I've played in front of, so all in all I'd say it's the most satisfying year I've had."

Achieving what Northants have with such a small squad is impressive enough, but the fact they've had to manage injuries and have key players unavailable to them at various points through the season makes it even more so.

Wakely said: "We've had to chop and change and it's been so pleasing that if someone's been injured someone else steps up."

Rory [Kleinveldt] has been injured and Richard Gleeson stepped up. If Ben Duckett hasn't scored runs then Josh Cobb has scored runs. In every game we play someone has got to play a match-winning innings, someone's got to get the ball in their hand and take five wickets."

Goal meant a great deal to hero Revell

RAISING THE ROOF: Alex Revell celebrates

After scoring Northampton Town's first goal against Manchester United since 1970, Alex Revell says he will treasure the memory long after he retires.

But the striker was more disappointed at the manner in which the team conceded in their 3-1 defeat to the FA Cup winners.

Revell had confidently tucked home a penalty to draw Town level at 1-1 just before the break, after Daley Blind had tripped Sam Hoskins in the penalty area.

But the Cobblers couldn't continue the momentum, with United adding two second half goals to take them through to the next round.

Speaking after the match, Revell said: "It was a great feeling to score. When you get a penalty you know it's just down to you and your mentality, but I was always confident. It meant a great deal because all of my family were here.

"These are the moments you have to remember in football, because when you've finished you can look back and say that it was one of the best moments of the career.

"It was great to score and get us back in the game, and it got us back in the game."

But the 33-year-old believes the team were made to rue individual mistakes in the game, and hopes they can be ironed out in time for Saturday's league game at home to Southend.

Revell added: "If you make mistakes against a side from a higher level you get punished. We've made three, and when that happens it sucks the air out of you a little bit.

"We need to learn now, because we'll go back to our bread and butter and get ready for a tough game on Saturday."

Smith has one to forget on the Cobblers' big night

BY MATT WRIGHT
sport@snmedia.co.uk

NORTHAMPTON TOWN 1
MANCHESTER UNITED 3

For the first time in 12 years, Manchester United were in town in front of a packed Sixfields, but there was to be no upset, even if the Cobblers did make their exulted opponents sweat for a while.

United in the end reached the fourth round of the EFL Cup comfortably enough, but in truth only one of their goals was of their own making – the only regret Town will have from a prestigious occasion in front of a record crowd including 100 visitors.

After an awful early miss from (an admittedly offside) Wayne Rooney, United went ahead from a mistake as Adam Smith picked up Matt Taylor's back pass; Rooney's resulting free kick was blocked but Michael Carrick swept in an excellent finish from the edge of the area.

The Cobblers were struggling to get a kick and were almost further behind when Tim Fosu-Mensah thumped a header from Morgan Schneiderlin's deep cross against the bar.

Kenji Gorre managed to rouse the crowd by forcing a save from Sergio Romero and the place was positively rocking as the hosts were awarded a penalty when Daley Blind tripped up Sam Hoskins.

The Red Devils had had enough chances to clear, but Revell didn't care as he nonchalantly sent Romero the wrong way from the spot to send the teams in level at the break.

United hit the woodwork for a second time after 58 minutes when Ander Herrera clipped the outside of the post from 25 yards after being too much time to get his shot away.

The Cobblers didn't heed this warning though as they fell behind ahead midway through the second half when Marcus Rashford teed up Herrera and this time his finish unerringly found the net.

Unfortunately for Smith he then made his second clanger of the night as he missed Herrera's long hoof forward, allowing Rashford to walk the ball into the goal.

Here's what we learned from the game...

The gaffer

Rob Page made two changes from Chesterfield, with Gabriel Zakuani and Hoskins replacing Lewin Nyatanga and Alfie Potter, but his team showed United too much respect in the opening half-hour.

He didn't delay in making his changes, though taking McCourt off may have been a case of before he was sent off, as he could have seen red for a lunge from behind on Memphis Depay.

Could be better

It's harsh to criticise a team when they face opposition of this standard, but the way the Cobblers finished the first half could have been used as a blueprint for how they'd set up for the rest of the game.

Instead, they began to drop off again and United were eventually able to reassert themselves and ease themselves through.

Also, of all the nights for Smith to have his worst game in a Northampton shirt. The stopper was outstanding last season and it's to be hoped he can put this behind him and get back to his best.

The opposition

Manchester United began the match in complete control, but they didn't make the most of their dominance before their frailty raised its head again for Northampton's equaliser.

They may have changed their manager in the summer, but they still play the game at walking pace far too often and Town weren't pulled around that often. They're still waiting for the Mourinho effect to happen at Old Trafford.

Man of match – Zander Diamond

Northampton had to do plenty of defending to do during the night and Diamond stood tall through against some considerable firepower.

While the Cobblers struggled in the first half-hour, he played a superb cushioned pass to Kenji Gorre that almost led to an opening and that raised their spirits. He did himself great credit with the nation watching.

Town had a part to play in United's goals admits boss Page

BY JAMES AVERILL
sport@snmedia.co.uk

ROB Page was proud of the display his side put on against Manchester United – but was disappointed at the goals they conceded in the 3-1 defeat.

Michael Carrick had given United the lead as he capitalised on a rebound from a Wayne Rooney free-kick, which had been conceded when Adam Smith picked up a long back pass from Matt Taylor.

An Alex Revell penalty levelled things up, but more sloppy defending gifted a strong United side the win in the second half.

Town stood off Ander Herrera to unleash a rocket into the bottom corner from distance, and then keeper Adam Smith made the kind of error that will end up of blooper DVDs for years to come as he completely missed a long punt up field, leaving Marcus Rashford to tap home.

The Cobblers boss said: "We had a hand in all three goals, and when you give goals away like that at any level you're going to get punished, but certainly against a side like Manchester United.

"That's what's frustrating, because the effort levels were fantastic. The goals disappoint us, we gifted them all three.

"When you give teams like that there's only one outcome."

Jose Mourinho certainly paid respect to the Cobblers by naming a strong line-up, including England captain Wayne Rooney.

And he turned to more class from the bench in Zlatan Ibrahimovic and Rashford bringing the duo on at 1-1 to help his side over the line.

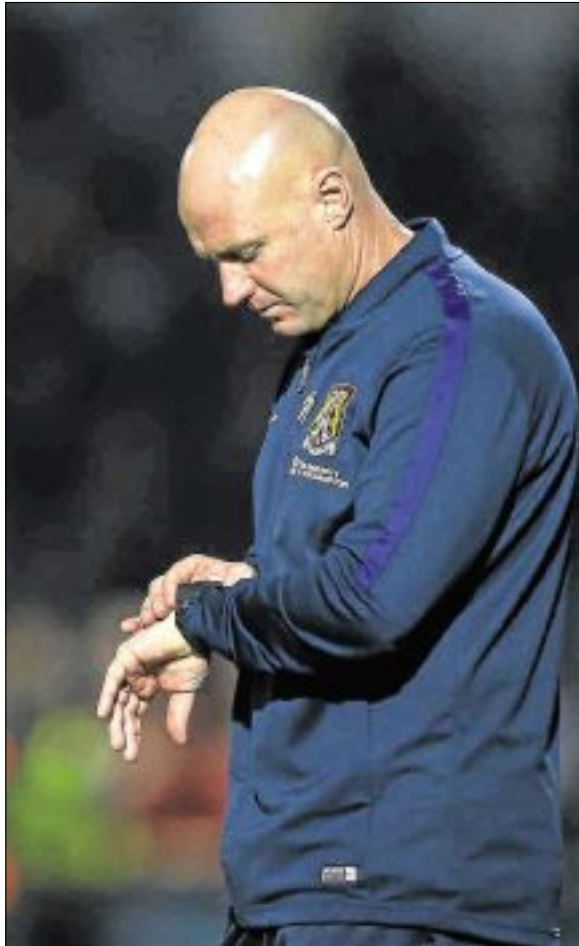

"It's probably the strongest bench I've ever seen in my career," said Page. "And when you see the likes of them warming up to come on you do gasp. But compliments to our team that they felt the need to bring them on to win the game.

"We got ourselves back into the game with Alex's goal. Revs has scored some important goals for us this year, so I'm pleased for him that he's scored.

"And the plan in the second half was to frustrate them and be defensively organised. But we gave two silly goals away. It's disappointing, but I can't fault their effort at all.

"We need the same work rate and commitment from this game in Saturday's game against Southend, but we know there's things to work on too.

"The crowd played a massive part tonight and I'd like to thank them for coming along. As soon as the whistle goes it's another game of football you want to win, and nothing changes."

Jose Mourinho

Tough to beat

BY MATT WRIGHT
sport@lsmmedia.co.uk

They turned up in record numbers at Sixfields on Wednesday night, but Northampton Town weren't quite able to give them the result they craved as Manchester United ran out 3-1 winners in the third round of the EFL Cup

Jose Mourinho's men didn't have things all their own way as Alex Revell levelled the match from the penalty spot just a few minutes before half-time, sparking wild celebrations amongst the crowd of 7,798.

But second-half goals from Ander Herrera and Marcus Rashford allowed United to ease the pressure on themselves after suffering three straight defeats in all competitions.

The only regret for Rob Page's side will be the quality of the goals they gave away - they defended manfully for most of the night, but a couple of lapses in concentration proved fatal, it was always going to be against this quality of opposition.

But this was still a night that live long in the memory of the Shoe Army.

Dermal Filler

If you're starting to get those pesky fine lines, wrinkles and that sunken hollow cheek or jowly look but aren't quite on board with the 'growing old gracefully' philosophy, then you might be looking into dermal fillers. If you are considering your options for a rejuvenated appearance then the complex world of dermal fillers can be a bit of a maze to navigate. Hyaluronic acid fillers are used to soften lines and wrinkles. Hyaluronic acid is a natural substance found in the skin, but the body produces less of it as we get older, which is why a top up can be useful.

As lines are filled, skin looks firmer and younger taking 10 years off easily and the results can last up to 12 months. It's important that you go to a practitioner who has an eye for facial aesthetics. During the consultation our Doctors will show you photos of before and after clients that "THEY" have actually done. The LasaDerm clinic uses a specialised method using a cannula to inject the filler which causes less bruising and delivers a more even outcome.

Dermal Filler Before & After

Tear Troughs (Under Eye Filler)

Hyaluronic acid shots are placed under the eye carefully by a cannula between the bone and the muscle. These fillers hide dark circles and smooth contours so light bounces uniformly off the area to give a smoother less wrinkled and light appearance. You will wake up looking refreshed and less "haggard". If dark circles are a concern you won't have to use as much concealer.
